Will there be a requirement to set up/sound check earlier than one and a half hours before event, or any reason packing up and loading out can not be done upon completion?

A prior event being held that is not to be disturbed, or continuation of an event preventing load out etc... (For example, you would generally not want a musician lugging equipment in or out during a wedding ceremony to set up at the reception if same venue, or have a band sound checking while guests are present)
